There Was Once A Boy...

Wednesday, October 29, 2008

"There was once a boy name Brockton. He was born with a leg twitch. He haunted me till I was 65. At 65 he came into my room and smelled it up so I drooled all over the floor and then it became a river and the whole town got flooded. Then and He man ___ but it didn't work in the end all of us died and Gabie man stayed alive and eat all the McDonald's."

When I Was Smaller...

"When I was smaller me and my friends were playing hide and seek around my apartment building and we turned off all the lights in my whole house and I hid somewhere and my friend was looking for me and I went to go turn on the lights because I got scared but before I set 'em on, I turned around. I saw a fully dark figure with a top hat and I turned around and turned the lights and on looked back and it wasn't there. Till this day I'm still afraid of that."

Hello OK So I'm...

"Hello OK so I'm a freelancer who works from home. I have a fiance now but I used to live alone. Anyway so I have a stack of post its but they kept disappearing on me. I hardly use them and the stack would get smaller and smaller. Nobody is ever in my room let alone my desk drawers. Well I thought I was going crazy and then one day a couple of years ago I went to brush my teeth and there was a post it on the mirror. Nothing was written on it and a couple days later there was the post it on the fridge. Then on my mirror in the other bathroom. Crazy crazy stuff. After a while it stopped and now I'm afraid to buy post its. My fiance thinks a ghost was trying to communicate with me. I tell him if so, that ghost owes me some post its. But really, ghosts are real. Believe me."
